MAYOR A. G. FELL WINS BY A VERY LARGE VOTE OVER DR. H. M. ROWE

Chris Flygare Elected Commissioner by a Surprisingly Large Majority—Arthur F. Larson Wins Auditorship—Judge Reeder Returned to the Municipal Court—Light Vote Cast—Unsuccessful Candidates Take Their Defeat in Good Grace.

Victors in yesterday's municipal election were Mayor A. G. Fell, Chris Flygare, Arthur F. Larson and William H. Reeder. Mayor Fell was re-elected over Dr. H. M. Rowe by a majority of 2147 votes. Flygare defeated A. E. Weatherby in the race for the four-year commissioner by a majority of 1520. Larson obtained a majority of 1550 over W. D. Van Dyke, Jr., incumbent of the auditor's office. Judge Reeder was re-elected to the municipal bench by a majority of 1700 votes over his opponent Gustav Holmgren, whose strength was a surprise.

The defeated candidates conceded the election an hour before the complete returns were received. Early in the count the successful candidates obtained leads that foretold the final result. The total vote cast in Ogden was 8379, the small number proving a disappointment to many. Mayor Fell led all candidates with a total of 4410 votes. Judge Reeder came next with 4175. The largest vote was cast for the auditor's office. Out of the total cast, 6887 expressed a choice for that office.

Mayor Fell obtained a majority in every district. In the primary election, Rowe was given the better of it in the Fourth and Seventh districts, but the odds were reversed last evening. Gustav Holmgren, Socialist candidate for judge, carried two districts, the Second and Fifth. In these districts reside most of the railroad men.

Interest in the election was evident in the crowds that thronged the streets. While the headquarters of the various candidates had crowds during the evening, the greater portion of the throng gathered at The Standard, where the returns as they came in were shown on a screen. By 10 o'clock, however, the election was no longer in doubt and many left the streets for their homes.

Mayor Fell was greatly pleased last evening.

"The endorsement given me at the polls is also an endorsement of my present administration," he said, "and is an indication of the faith the people have in me as a public official. The confidence placed in a public servant is a sacred one and should not be violated. In the administration of my duties as mayor, I shall be as much the representative of those who voted for me as of those who voted against me."

Dr. H. M. Rowe made the following statement:

"I am satisfied. My opponent, Mayor Fell, is a fine fellow and I congratulate him on the large vote he received. I would have preferred to have had him come out and answer my criticisms of his administration, but with his organization and alliances he did not have to. I had not paid workers or hired automobiles and I believe in the near future paid workers and hired automobiles will be abolished as in several of the larger cities.

"A publicity campaign such as I conducted is not so efficient as an organization with paid workers, but I believe it to be much cleaner. I still believe in the principles I advocated, but I do not think the people voted for or against them. They voted as they were instructed by different organizations working in unison for my opponent. Thanking my supporters, I will continue to do what little I can to advance the interests of our city and people."

"I can say candidly that the trust in me will not be violated," said Chris Flygare. "I firmly believed after a canvass had been made that the people would demonstrate their faith in me and the outcome of yesterday's voting proved that I had not erred. The campaign was one of the cleanest that has been conducted."

Arthur Larson was greatly pleased last evening. He thanked his many friends who had worked hard for him without recompense and he stated that in the vote of the people he saw the faith they have in his efficiency as a public officer.

Judge Reeder was also gratified. He declared that he would continue to fulfill his duties as municipal judge in a careful and considerate manner.

"I am disappointed," said A. E. Weatherby, the defeated candidate for commissioner, when he was interviewed today.

"I had reason to believe that I would receive enough support for election but, as you can see, I fell short. There are reasons for my shortage. People on the street have told me several. I have my opinion but I do not believe I will state it. It might not be right. However, I did have numerous loyal friends who remained by me and I thank those friends for the support."

W. D. Van Dyke, Jr., candidate for re-election to the position of city auditor, had but little to say. "One of the candidates had to be defeated," said Bishop Van Dyke. "Defeats are to be expected by a man running for political office, so I will be a good loser. I do believe, though, that my work as auditor during the first two years of the commission form of city government in Ogden should have entitled me to another term."

with Mr. Bigelow and that they had entered into an agreement, subject to the approval of the board, but by which the city shall rebuild the gutter and that Mr. Bigelow construct his driveway to conform to the new grade.

Ordinances providing for the levying and collecting of special taxes for the construction of sewer districts No. 117 and No. 118 were passed and the recorder was instructed to have them published. This action was taken after the commissioners, sitting as a board of equalization and review, had completed their labor according to the provisions of the city ordinances. The board had some difficulty with property owners respecting the improvement.

CASE INVOLVES THE PURCHASE OF SHOES STOLEN FROM CAR

Judge W. H. Reeder's court room resembled a shoe shop this morning during the hearing of J. Iskgirl and J. Wada, charged with knowingly purchasing stolen property. The property consisted of a score or more of shoes which are alleged to have been taken from a box car by D. W. Reardon. The case took up most of the morning and at its conclusion, Judge Reeder stated that he would reserve his decision until tomorrow.

D. W. Reardon, the man now held in the city jail, was the chief prosecuting witness. He said that he had taken the shoes to the Japanese store and had sold them. Reardon testified that when asked where he secured them, he told the Japanese that he got them from a box car.

The Japanese defendants declared on the stand that they did not know the goods were stolen, when Reardon offered them for sale. One of them said he could not understand English and would not have understood the statement about the shoes being taken from the car if it had been made.

Reardon is remaining in jail willingly, even though he has not yet been charged with breaking into the car. Since he confessed, following his arrest, he has been aiding the police in locating the goods and the men who purchased the stock from him.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 5.—In the face of a number of foreign and domestic bearish conditions, wheat today showed a good rallying tendency after a weak opening. Prices at the opening showed a net decline of 1-8 to 1-4 @3-8c. Some of the leading houses took advantage of the dip to buy and came into the market so strongly that there was a recovery of 1-8 to 3-8c. Fine weather over the entire corn belt weakened that market. Opening prices were 1-4@3-8 to 3-8@1-2c net lower, and seemed inclined to steady

The oats market steadied after opening prices, which were 1-4 to 3-8c off.

First prices of provisions were 5 to 17 1-2 cents below the last close and further upsets followed.

Support later was withdrawn and the early wheat rally was more than lost. The close was weak at a net loss of 1-8 to 3-4c.

R. S. LOVETT COMING ON HIS SPECIAL TRAIN

R. S. Lovett, chairman of the Union Pacific company, will arrive in Ogden at 6:30 o'clock this evening on a special train over the Oregon Short Line. Although definite information has not been received concerning his destination, it was understood at the depot this morning that he would go on to Salt Lake.

Besides the Lovett party, W. H. Bancroft, general manager of the Oregon Short Line, and Supt. E. C. Manson will be on the train upon its arrival here. The two latter officials went north a few days ago.

Judge Lovett passed through Ogden more than a week ago and continued west over the San Pedro. At that time he informed the joint committee of the Weber and Salt Lake Commercial clubs that he would try to meet the committee. The two clubs are desirous of having the Burley-Saltine cut-off constructed and will urge the official to recommend the building of the line.
